3. CONDUCT OF BUSINESS

3A. 23-345 Continue Discussion Regarding Skunk Train Whistle and Quiet Zone Implementation

Police Chief Cervenka presented further information regarding the implementation of a "Quiet Zone" and the estimated cost for the changes at five different intersection. The estimated cost to make the adequate changes would be about one million dollars. Other challenges would be working with Caltrans on State Road 1 and and the biggest challenge would be that the City would be financially responsible for the changes to the intersections.

An inspector from the Federal Rail Authority (FRA) has been assigned to inspect the five intersections and he will conduct the on site inspection once Congress passes a permanent budge for their department. The inspector has been in contact with the Skunk Train Management and in his opinion he believes the Skunk Train is misinterpreting the regulation regarding the usage of whistle blowing. The inspector will be following up with the the FRA legal team to further discuss the legal interpretation of the regulation on whistle blowing.

Chair Peters comments regarding the whistle blowing excessively which is the cause and concerns the local residents have. Chief Cervenka mentioned that he has contacted the General Manager of Skunk Train and was provided the manufacturers information for the whistles that they use for the decibel rating which are at a lower end compared to freight train whistles.

Chair Peters states that until there is further information regarding the legal interpretation on the regulation we will discuss the item further. Chief Cervenka mentioned that the General Manager plans to abide by what the FRA recommends after the legal interpretation is done. Chair Peters closed the agenda item by recommending that Chief Cervenka adds the item back on the agenda once there is an update from the FRA.

3B. 23-346 Continue Discussion Regarding Proposed Ordinance for Vacant Property Registration

Code Enforcement Officer George Leinen reintroduced the proposed ordinance and what was changed since the last meeting. He described the changes that the City's attorney suggested making to the ordinance including having the same consideration for both residential and commercial properties. A fee scheduled was also calculated for the ordinance by the City's Finance Department.

Code Enforcement Officer Leinen answered a question that has been brought up by many which was how the ordinance was going to be implemented and his response was that the public will need to be educated and informed by sending out registration packets to property owners.

Chair Peters expressed that the ordinance is solely to register vacant properties within City limits and Code Enforcement Officer Leinen affirmed that it is strictly only for vacant properties. Chair Peters commented that this ordinance will be a great incentive to property owners so that they sell the property to someone who will vacate and lower the housing crisis and bring in money to the City.

Chair Peters recommended to move the agenda item to City Council for further discussion.

3C. 23-347 Discuss Electrical Bicycles and Other Types of Mobility Devices Speeding on the Coastal Trail

Chief Cervenka began by stating that the Police Department has been spending more time at all points of the trail to gather data regarding speeders on the trail. Chief Cervenka went on to inform that if we were to compare the number of users on the trail versus the number of complaints is skew. There have been very few reports or complaints of people riding poorly on the trail the previous complaints made were regarding the same person who repeatedly went too fast on the trail which was caught and counseled on his behavior.

Chief Cervenka explained the challenges in implementing speed limits on a non roadway. He mentioned different options available to consider in order to prevent any further complaints or incidents involving reckless users. Chair Peters commented on possibly placing additional signage on the trail on the other had Chief Cervenka expressed his concern that unless the sign is related to an enforceable law then a sign should not be added. Chief Cervenka continued to state that an alternative to signage could be painting a short message on the roadway on the trail that would catch the attention of all users. Chief Cervenka will be conducting more research regarding painting on the roadway and will inform the committee at a later date.
