EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The City of Fort Bragg (City) engaged Regional Government Services (RGS) to conduct an agency-wide total compensation survey in December 2021. The goals of the study included to:

- Determine the compensation for similar classifications in the City's identified comparable agencies
- Determine the level of benefits provided by comparable agencies to similar classifications
- Evaluate whether the City's compensation and benefits are competitive with the job market utilizing the data obtained from the City

METHODOLOGY

KICK-OFF MEETING

RGS met with the City Manager in December 2021 to initiate the total compensation study. Organizational data was requested, and the comparable agencies to be included in the study, classifications to be surveyed, and the compensation components were discussed. In addition, information regarding agency expectations, timelines, data collection methods, deliverables, and other pertinent information was shared.

ORGANIZATIONAL DATA

RGS requested and reviewed key organizational materials and information to begin to understand the City's current structure, policy, procedures, challenges, and practices related to compensation systems and administration. Those materials included:

- Organizational Charts
- Existing classification specifications
- Benefit summaries and employer/employee cost data
- Salary schedules
- MOUs and applicable policies, procedures, and ordinances

MARKET COMPARATORS

RGS analyzed various agencies to determine comparability for inclusion in the study. The City agreed that RGS would use ten (10) comparator agencies to collect compensation data. The agencies were selected based on various factors including shared labor market and similarities in agency size, city population, and annual budget. These comparator agencies are:

- City of Arcata
- City of Clearlake
- City of Cloverdale
- City of Eureka
- City of Fortuna

- City of Lakeport
- City of Sonoma
- City of Ukiah
- City of Willits
- City of Windsor

COMPENSATION COMPONENTS

The following are the agreed upon salary and benefit components included in the compensation study, with a brief description of each component. Only those components representing the cost of the position to the agency have been included in the total compensation calculation. However, other components have been included for informational purposes to ensure a complete picture of each agency's salary and benefits structure related to those for the study position. The components provided for informational purposes only are identified below with underlined text.

Monthly Base Salary: The top of the salary range (excluding longevity salary steps). RGS has collected data based on both gross salary and pensionable salary. All figures are presented on a monthly basis.

Insurance

Medical Insurance: The maximum monthly amount the agency contributes to medical premiums for the employee and dependents. This amount is included in the total compensation calculation.

The maximum monthly amount paid by the employee and the total cost are presented for informational purposes.

Dental Insurance: The maximum monthly amount the agency contributes to dental premiums for the employee and dependents. This amount is included in the total compensation calculation. The maximum monthly amount paid by the employee and the total cost are presented for informational purposes.

Vision Insurance: The maximum monthly amount the agency contributes to vision premiums for the employee and dependents. This amount is included in the total compensation calculation. The maximum monthly amount paid by the employee and the total cost are presented for informational purposes.

Pension

Employee Paid Member Contribution: The amount the employee pays of the employee's statutory required contribution to the retirement system. This amount is presented for informational purposes.

Employee Paid Employer Contribution: The amount the employee agrees to pay of the statutorily required employer contribution to the retirement system. This amount is included in the total compensation calculation (shown as a negative number).

Employer Paid Member Contribution: The amount the agency agrees to pay of the statutorily required employee contribution to the retirement system. This amount is included in the total compensation calculation.

Minimum Required Employer Contribution: The annual cost of service accrual for the upcoming fiscal year for active employees (Normal Cost).

Leaves

Vacation Leave: The number of vacation hours accrued per year by all employees in the classification after five years of employment. The number of days has been converted to a dollar amount based on the base rate of pay and is included in the total compensation calculation.

Sick Leave: The number of sick hours accrued per year by all employees in the classification. The number of hours has been converted to a dollar amount based on the base rate of pay and is included in the total compensation calculation.

Holiday Leave: The number of holiday hours accrued per year by employees in the classifications. The number of hours has been converted to a dollar amount based on the base rate of pay and is included in the total compensation calculation.

Administrative/Management/Personal Leave: The number of hours normally available to management to reward employees for extraordinary effort in lieu of overtime. Personal leave may be available to other groups of employees to augment vacation or other time off. The number of hours has been converted to a dollar amount based on the base rate of pay and is included in the total compensation calculation.

Additional Benefits

Longevity Pay: The amount provided to employees who have reached a specific number of years of service as determined by the employer. This amount is included in the total compensation calculation.

Certification Pay: The amount the employer provides to employees for various work-related certifications and licenses.

Educational Incentive Pay: The amount provided to the employee for educational achievement levels as determined by the employer. The amount provided for the possession of a bachelor's degree was collected and is included in the total compensation calculation.

DATA COLLECTION PROCESS

DETERMINING MATCH CLASSIFICATIONS

One of the most critical factors in conducting a compensation study is ensuring the classifications studied from the comparator agencies match the surveyed classifications selected for the study as closely as possible. When comparing appropriate matches, the analysis must include more than job titles. Due to different titling conventions, job titles alone can be misleading. Therefore, a more extensive analysis is performed. The City's class specifications were analyzed, and RGS met with the City Manager to discuss specific aspects of various classifications to ensure the most up-to-date and accurate information was used in the analysis. Classifications at the comparable agencies were compared to those at the City, and match classifications were determined using the following criteria:

- Education and experience requirements
- Scope and complexity of the work
- Knowledge, skills, and abilities required to perform the work
- Supervision received and exercised
- Consequence of error
- Organizational structure of the division/department where the classification(s) is/are found.

RGS considers fewer than four (4) comparison matches insufficient for analysis because fewer matches make salary variations more significant, and results may not accurately reflect the market.

COMPENSATION DATA COLLECTION

Compensation data was collected through websites, direct contact with agency human resources, finance, and management staff, and an in-depth review of agency documents, including class specifications, memoranda of understanding, organizational charts, personnel allocations, and budget documents. RGS contacted the ten (10) comparator agencies to collect the study data, and all were responsive to our requests for information. RGS verified salary and benefits data, analyzed the data received, and compared it to data obtained from the City. The summary provided below is based on this data.

The compensation charts provided include the median (midpoint) of the maximum monthly base pay and total compensation data for each surveyed classification. RGS recommends that the median be used in reviewing the data instead of the mean which is the average of the data of all market data collected. The median is the exact midpoint with 50% of market data below and 50% of market data above. Unlike the mean, the median methodology eliminates distortion caused by exceptionally high or low salary values.

FINDINGS AND ANALYSIS

Of the twenty-four classifications surveyed, RGS found sufficient match classifications for all but five classifications.

- Administrative Analyst
- Assistant Director Engineering
- Grants Coordinator

- Human Resources Analyst
- Systems Analyst

The charts below are organized alphabetically by classification. These charts and the following narrative summarize the survey results and compare the City's compensation to that of the comparable agencies. In the first chart, the percentages represent the difference in the top step base salary of the City to the median base pay of all market comparators. In the second chart, the percentage represents the difference in the top step total compensation of the City to the median total compensation of all market comparators.

When analyzing compensation, it is customary to consider competitiveness in the relevant labor market. As an industry rule, if a classification falls within five percent (5%) above or below the market, it is considered competitive, and adjustments are not typically recommended. The five percent (5%) above or below market differences allow for slight differences between job duties, assignments, and benefits packages. The City may choose to consider setting different adjustment standards.

SALARY CONSIDERATIONS BASED ON EXTERNAL DATA

Based on the market survey data collected, the salaries for two classifications are significantly below the market median whether looking at base pay or total compensation. RGS recommends a review of the following classifications for possible salary range adjustments.

| BENCHMARK CLASSIFICATION TITLE | Fort Bragg to Market Median % | Top Step to the Median of Market |
|--------------------------------|----------------------------------|--|
| City Clerk | -19.29% | Below |
| Operations Manager | -19.28% | Below |

The Director of Community Development is 6.16% below the market (base pay). However, as the position is vacant and the salary is only slightly below what is considered competitive, salary adjustments may be delayed until the City begins recruitment efforts if fiscal constraints warrant.

There are also several classes that are considered above the market, some significantly so. The City may consider adjusting salary ranges for those classes found to be more than 5% above the median of comparators. In all cases, RGS recommends incumbent salaries be "Y-rated" (frozen) where they are until the market average catches up with their salary. This would include the salaries of incumbents in classifications whose salaries are set in relationship to the benchmark classifications (internal alignment).

| BENCHMARK CLASSIFICATION TITLE | Fort Bragg to Market Median % | Top Step to the Median of Market |
|---|----------------------------------|--|
| Administrative Assistant (non-confidential) | 12.88% | Above |
| Assistant City Engineer | 10.36% | Above |
| Associate Planner | 11.53% | Above |
| Code Enforcement Officer | 19.63% | Above |
| Construction Project Manager | 11.04% | Above |
| Engineering Technician | 5.29% | Above |
| Environmental Compliance Coordinator | 11.0% | Above |
| Finance Technician II | 10.12% | Above |
| Government Accountant II | 20.50% | Above |
| Maintenance Worker II | 14.51% | Above |
| Mechanic | 21.35% | Above |
| Treatment Plant Operator II | 9.17% | Above |

INTERNAL SALARY RELATIONSHIPS

While utilizing external data to assist in determining appropriate salaries, it is equally important to examine the internal alignment of classifications within an organization. RGS has recommended standardized salary differentials between classifications within the same class series or class families. These differentials may vary based on level of complexity of the work or the scope of authority such as entry, journey, lead or senior, supervisor and manager. These classes should be separated by approximately 5-10% at the lower levels and 15% and higher at the supervisory and management levels. This practice provides a healthy separation between the levels for career development and avoids compaction. Compaction occurs when classifications are less than 5% of each other.

For specialized classes or those for which insufficient data was obtained through the compensation study, the internal salary alignment recommendations are based on various classification factors. These include the scope of responsibility, organization level, supervision received and exercised, and work complexity between the identified classifications.

Where current salaries are significantly above or below the market, RGS' intent is not to exacerbate those salary inequities with the recommendations from the internal alignment analysis. Therefore, the recommendations resulting from the analysis are based on the use of the median market data for the benchmark classes obtained from the compensation study. Attachment B includes an internal salary alignment chart reflecting our recommendations.

GENERAL COMPENSATION CONSIDERATIONS

While RGS has provided suggestions to address any compensation inequities between the City and the surveyed market, as well as suggest internal salary alignment, this report is simply a tool for discussion. There are other factors that must also be considered.

OTHER ORGANIZATIONAL AND FINANCIAL FACTORS

While providing compensation that is both externally and internally equitable may be a goal of the City, there may be other factors that need to be considered. These factors may include the following:

Impediments to Recruitment

During various times during an organization's life, the labor market shifts, and for multiple reasons, a position(s) may become extremely difficult to recruit. When this occurs, compensation is one factor to be considered.

Value to the Organization

Some classifications have a greater value to an organization than others. It is important for you to consider the value of each classification, as well as the potential difficulty of replacing that position when reviewing compensation.

Ripple Effect of an Increase

Depending on the differentials set between classifications within and across series, modifying all classifications within a series or related to a classification for which an organization is adjusting compensation may become appropriate. Therefore, it is important to understand the other classifications that will be affected, and the additional administrative and overhead costs associated with the compensation adjustment when implementing a change in compensation.

COMPENSATION POLICY

We recommend the City create a compensation policy to establish and codify a strategy for setting compensation. This policy should identify the comparator agencies to be surveyed (or, at minimum, the type of agencies to be surveyed), the benefit components to be used, the method of collecting information, the criteria for determining when compensation studies will be conducted, how the comparable data will be determined, and how the data will be implemented.

RGS recommends the policy include how the City plans to set compensation in relation to the market data. For example, using the median as the set point for salaries, using either base pay or total compensation, and setting salaries equal to the median or some percentage above or below the median.

In addition to market placement, there are many other factors to consider when setting salaries. The policy should include recruitment and retention issues, salaries of other similar positions within the same series or across the organization (internal parity), the value of the work performed to the organization, and fiscal sustainability. The City's total compensation package value may also be a factor to consider in determining policy parameters.

Adopting a compensation policy that includes compensation-setting guidance based on all these factors will provide a fact-based and analytical foundation and give the City tools needed to resist short-term pressures in favor of long-term fairness and fiscal sustainability.
