

Ft. Bragg Election Options

If the threatened suit doesn't go away, and if Ft. Bragg voters want to have a say about all council members, there are alternatives to risking losing in court. Californians for Electoral Reform (CfER), an all-volunteer, non-profit organization, offers reliable information about options, either as an alternative to single-member district elections, or following an interim switch to districts.

The transition would be challenging, but CfER would welcome an invitation to participate in discussions and can offer free education and training resources throughout the process, from assistance with specific language for a city charter to conducting elections.
