Suzanne,

I will certainly consider your comments in the design engineering process. However, at this time your additional statements will not be included in the published packet as it will not be re-published prior to tomorrow's meeting. Standard practice is to include the comments in a finalized packet after the meeting is over. The additional information will be distributed to our Council Committee and they can decide how to proceed, as each person gets one opportunity to comment and those comments are limited to three minutes each. That includes those statements read aloud.

Thanks,

Hello again Chantell,

I forgot to mention in my email to you that we have a section of the street where no parking is allowed on the west side of the street and it is clearly marked with signs, but people often ignore the signs and park there anywhere, which makes it difficult to get out of driveways and turn your car south to exit the street and it also impedes emergency vehicles. A simple solution would be to add red paint to the curbs along that section of the street which is only about 75 to 100 feet long. We think that would further deter people from parking along this section.

I am hoping it isn't too late to submit this as an addendum to my previously submitted note for the meeting.

Thank you, Suzanne Frew-Harris
