My only comment if this holiday is to be observed then why stop here?
Every holiday is important to someone, who is being discriminated against by not having a resolution?

As said before, the City of Fort Bragg has lots to do without trying to look Woke.

We know our history, if it were only taught more in schools, real facts, we had a Civil War to change the direction of this country. Is there a holiday for the beginning and the end of that?

I don't think so. I could be wrong.

Why the recent constant reminder of the long ago past? Did this not get taught before? Seems to be only in certain racial or otherwise negative viewpoints lately.

But many as I do feel there are deeper reasons for doing all this. Division is gaining in our country and world, and I question the real motives here. We have seen the tip of the iceberg, and its not looking very appealing.

Columbus day is gone, Christmas next? Good thing it's a national holiday.
